INTRODUCTION

His Highness Rajarshi Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj of Kolhapur established this Palace Zoo within the New Palace area around 1890 as his private Zoo. This was the first zoo established in Western India as per our information.

It has natural surroundings with a lake in the center. The expenses for maintaining this Zoo were borne out of Maharaja's private funds till the year 1971. In the year 1971 His Late Highness Maj. Gen. Shahaji Chhatrapati Maharajasaheb of Kolhapur made a Public Charitable Trust of his private Zoo, registered it under the Bombay Public Trust Act and named it as "MAHARAJA SHAHAJI CHHATRAPATI ZOO". He also made sufficient provision for its annual expenditure. Since then, the Board of Trustees are managing the working of this zoo. The accounts of the Trust are being audited, Annual Balance Sheets & Audit Reports are being submitted to the Asst. Charity Commissioner of Kolhapur, for their record regularly.
